faculty-administration

foreword

1968-1969 was a year of change on the bates campus . . . student action coupled with faculty concern and administrative cooperation produced an ever-mounting excitement enhanced by committee meetings, workshops, rule-changes . . . a new freedom was combined with a new look in the buildings on campus and a wonderful addition to the men's gym facilities . . . as the months progressed we waited for more new developments . . . mirror '69 is the story of how we waited and for what, and the things we did in between . . .

president of bates college the president

president and mrs. reynolds greeted alumni and parents at a chase hall reception during homecoming ceremonies . . .

"prexy" addresses all of us at convocation . . .

strong son of man, who dares to lead thy weaker kin in their affairs, renouncing peace and shouldering cares, thou fillest a great and heavy need.

the king before his surging ranks, the councillor molding nation's fates are not more vital in their states than thou, deserving all our thanks.

you pedagogues who populate a college, prepare your lectures, validate, refute, provide your students with a little knowledge, refine the scholar and reform the brute, invite the genius to ascend the tall ledge of physical and ethical pursuit, i hail your learning!—let it not be collared before the fool, the critic, and the dullard.

as reddened leaves melt with the mingling wind, when late they framed the rich expanse of skies, so doth the grayest melancholy bind the tired flesh of dreams that ever dies.

freshman orientation

ELCOME to BA

each year the freshmen arrive on campus several days before the rest of us, just to get used to the place . . . the outing club always plans interesting activities to break the ice, including one's first meeting with a shoe-date, pass-the-orange and a walk guaranteed to stir up anyone's hay fever . . . by the time freshmen have unpacked and taken the battery of tests afforded by the guidance department, they find these activities welcome relaxation . . .

convocation

. . . then the upperclassmen came back officially on tuesday . . . the private world of the freshmen had been shattered . . . once again the chapel filled to overflowing as we all came together to start the year off at convocation . . .

hazing

. . . hazing met its end this year on the women's side of campus, but not before the class of '71 was subjected to the terrors of bibs, beanies, hell night and debibbing ceremonies . . . the senior women added their bit on hell night . . . meanwhile the freshmen waited anxiously for the reprieve afforded by haze day . . .

haze day

. . . the end of a long week finally came for the freshmen at haze day ceremonies . . . shaving cream seemed to be the most popular item at the event, which was topped off by the ringing of the bells of hathorn at 5 o'clock, signaling the end of the beginning for the frosh . . .

haze day '65

BATES COLLEGE
28

. . . as hazing closed season for another year, the seniors must have had fond memories of four years previous when they, too, were subjected to hazing . . . just to refresh their memories, the mirror staff dug up a few reminders of what it was like in '65 . . . my, how they've changed . . .

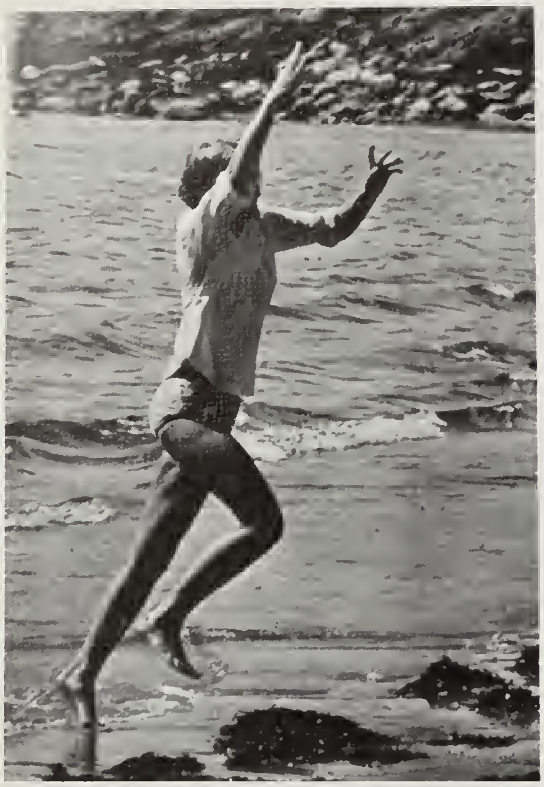
hermit island



. . . the outing club sponsored the first annual trip to hermit island in september . . . a day of fun in the sun included swimming, volleyball, touch football, singalongs and lots of good food prepared to taste by batesie chefs on the seaside . . .

outing club

every batesie is automatically a member of the o.c. . . . aside from its regular productions of hermit island and winter carnival the outing club, headed this year by colin fuller '69, tried its best to make weekends interesting with mountain climbs, beachwalks, and ski trips . . .

parietals

. . . the big thing this year was an attempt on the part of batesies to unite in action against what we considered to be a basic lack in bates facilities . . . mainly, the answer to the question, "where can we go to be alone?" was in the fore . . .

Concerned Students: Run for the Student
Life Committee.
Sign up here

it all started out with ad hoc committee meeting in the guys' dorms and in the co-ed lounge to determine our course of action in the matter . . .

. . . rumors flowed . . . students went into action . . . professor straub met us in the co-ed lounge to clear op a few misunderstandings . . . we listened and then we discussed it among ourselves . . .

. . . it was clear that parietals were the answer, and from the results of polls and response to sign-ups for committee candidates, we knew that parietals were what we wanted . . .

parietals rally

. . . we had to show our concern somehow . . . we met on the grass beside common on october 2 . . . peter and dave were among those leaders who spoke to us about our movement and what it was accomplishing . . . then mike and bill entertained with appropriate tunes, the quick and the dead helped to make it an unforgetable evening, and an undeniably common cause had at last united batesies . . .

student life committee

. . . what came of it all at last was the joint student-faculty-trustee committee on student life . . . our six elected representatives deliberated with the six faculty members and six trustees to come up with the solutions to the problems of batesie life . . . we eagerly awaited the outcome of those deliberations . . . january brought the results . . .

parents' weekend

. . . on october 26 we experienced the first annual parents' weekend at bates college . . . lunch in the cage was followed by the bobcats' trouncing of the team from acadia, nova scotia . . . after the game all went on tours of the dorm facilities from four to seven . . . we were impressed at half-time by the performance of the pine tree warriors . . .

intramurals

the men from smith south were the success story of the fall season as they upset hedge hall in a game which proved once again that it isn't the league which makes a team, it is spirit and unity . . . that is what intramurals are all about.

field hockey

once again the field hockey team finished the season undefeated, the only team to do so this year. captained by bonnie brian, the team beat gorham state, nasson, farmington, westbrook junior, and colby to establish itself firmly as a distinguished bates unit.

the men's council is composed of all the men proctors on campus . . . new duties for the proctors this year included supervision of parietal hours . . . this year too some of the men's dorms had head proctors instead of house mothers . . . chairman of the council this year was tom hutchinson '69 . . .

men's council

women's council

under the able leadership of ann wheeler '69, the women's council this year made a number of changes on the feminine side of campus . . . women, except for first semester frosh, now have no curfews, and if they live in dorms with sprinkler systems, may smoke in their rooms . . . in the council itself, vice-president proctors become voting members . . .

judicial board

the judicial board decides many of the questions concerning student body discipline . . . the board consists of two members from each class who are elected each year in the off-campus elections . . . it makes recommendations on punishments to the student-faculty conduct committee in special cases . . .

advisory board

ad board members are elected from each class each year for the purpose of formulating and coordinating campus policies and the supervision of the student activity fee dispersal . . .

november-december

the great mechanik, winter drawing near,
has tipped away the northern hemisphere.
the ice and snow, according to his reason reflect the coming of another season.
o man, exalt your maker's awesome range which fuses order with unceasing change.

—pope

homecoming

. . . back-to-bates weekend this year fell on november 2 . . . lunch in the cage began the festivities . . . old grads met in the den and the co-ed lounge to renew acquaintances before trooping over to garcelon field to see the bobcats in action against the bowdoin polar bears . . .

homecoming

... up against a strong bowdoin team, the bobcats found the going a little rough ... open house in the dorms followed the end of the game, and parents and alumni alike marveled at the way we lived ... or didn't live ... here at school ... prexy held a reception in chase hall for the alumni and seniors ... the nine lords provided the entertainment ...

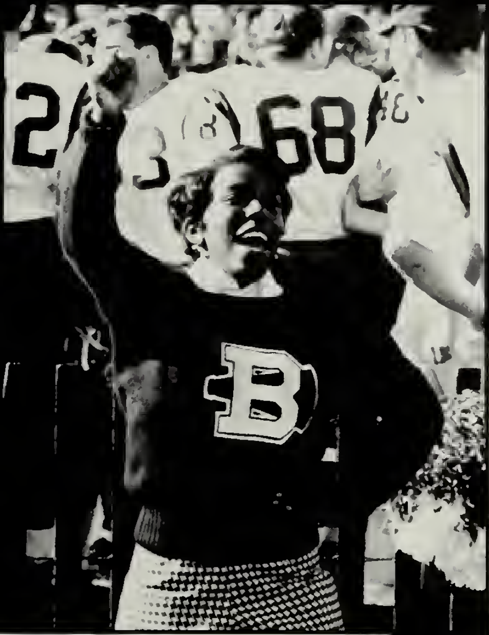
cheerleaders

1968-69 cheerleaders: sue majeski, dorothy thompson, sharon orlando, wendy anastos, jennifer byrne, sally towne, marilyn nixon, beverly morrison, pam okraska.

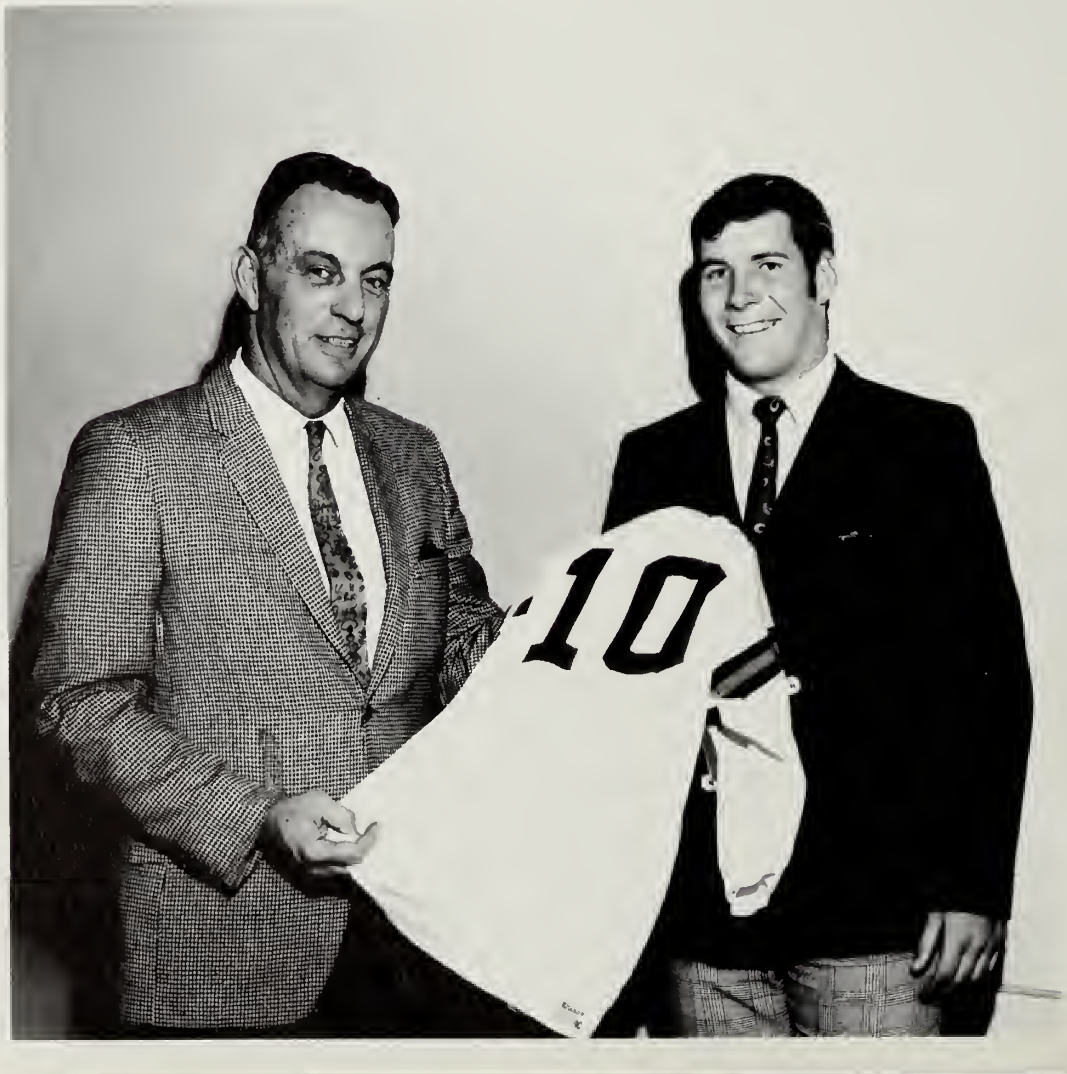


sadie hawkins

the annual sadie hawkins gala was held this year during october, a little earlier than usual but just as much fun . . . the girls called on thursday night, and the guys tried mightily to find out before saturday who would be picking them up for a night of sawdust, dancing, noise and inebriation, all of which combined produced an interesting evening for all . . .

fall sports banquet

. . . it was november 20 . . . members of the fall sports teams met to receive honors, elect new captains and enjoy a good meal . . . varsity letter jackets were received by seniors, while underclassmen received letters . . . then while the teams and cheerleaders looked on, the famous football jersey No. 10 was retired in honor of the accomplishments of the man who wore it, jim murphy . . .



the libe

while we waited for the results of planning for the new library, we put the old one to use . . . whether we preferred the upper libe, the stacks, or the fishbowl . . . or were just there for researching those common occurances, term papers . . .

. . . 1968 once again brought the national elections . . . bates college came into prominence as the institution which educated the democratic nominee for the vice-presidential position, edmund s. muskie, of rumford . . . senator muskie graduated with honors from bates in 1936 . . . the closeness of the election made for an all-night stay at television sets and radios all over campus . . . senator muskie is shown here addressing people outside the democratic headquarters in new york city, and again as he spoke in june of '68 during alumni weekend lectures on pollution problems . . .

disadvantaged students workshop

. . . this year in december we witnessed another new event in batesie history . . . under the leadership and planning of the committee on disadvantaged students the workshop on admission of these students was devised . . . highlights included seminar-type discussions led by bates students, an address by james farmer, and the art exhibit in chase hall of the works of the artist tecla . . .

barefoot in the park

. . . this year the robinson players under the direction of bill beard produced the broadway hit, barefoot in the park . . . leads were played by john shea and bonnie brian, supported by joyce grimes and ed romine . . . the play was so well done that an extra performance was scheduled for sunday afternoon . . .

we saw signs all over campus . . . "save february 6-9, '69" . . . the reason? winter carnival, the big event of the blustry winter season in lewiston . . . things got under way on thursday afternoon when the hockey club handed st. francis college an impressive defeat . . . and everyone else was running around trying to finish their snow sculptures at the last moment . . .

thursday evening at 6:30 president reynolds crowned bev morrison '69j queen of the whole affair as her court watched on the steps of hathorn . . . jim sawdy '68 joined her at the throne and escorted her to carnival events . . .

friday night it was the beacon street union in the alumni gym . . . whether they danced or just listened, a good time was had by all . . .

saturday night after a substantial meal at the banquet, we went to the carnival ball . . . the gym was beautifully decorated . . . queen bev led the first dance . . . the rest of us joined her to the strains of ted herbert and his orchestra . . . some of us went on the soiree in chase hall afterward . . . the place just didn't look the same . . .

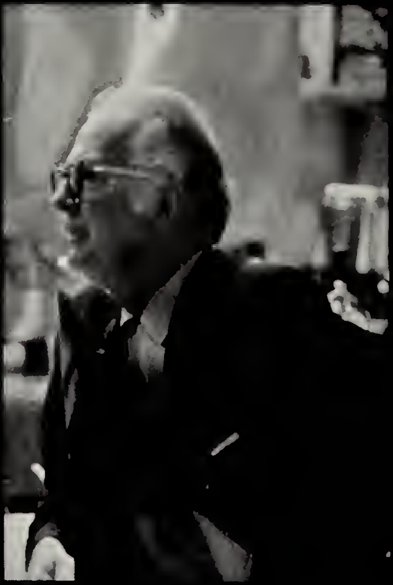
top: stephen mcclintic, andrew bragdon, james malandrinos, arthur west, william alsop, michael friedman.

. . . captained by tim reed '69, the skiing bobcats donned long underwear and boots for their second varsity year under coach flynn, jumping and slaloming their way to successful attempts at sugarloaf, sunday river and lost valley . . . when it was all over, jay parker '70 was elected captain for next year . . .

the light in the wilderness

. . . in january the bates choir presented three performances of the new england jazz oratorio, the light in the wilderness . . . professionals were also on hand to help produce dave brubeck's masterpiece, as was our visiting soprano, miss atenilde cunha . . . alan dawson had a hand at the drums, jack six was on the bass, and darius brubeck handled the piano and electric guitar . . .

chorus and band



. . . under the direction of d. robert smith the chorus and band performed at chapel and at the football games . . . after much practice in pettigrew they presented the light in the wilderness and the annual spring festival of music to complete the contributions of the music department to the batesie calendar of events . . . bob shepherd '69 acted as student leader of the band . . .

deansmen

bates is proud of its singing groups, the deansmen and the merrimanders . . . aside from appearing in the spring music festival, the deans and merris entertained at freshman orientation and were invited to sing at many schools in the new england area . . .

merrimanders

atenilde cunna

this year as part of the alliance for progress bates had the honor of having miss atenilde cunha as soprano-in-residence . . . miss cunha, shown above with music director d. robert smith, presented a gift of books from rio grande de norte, brazil, to governor curtis of maine in febuary . . . she also participated in many musical presentations, including the light in the wilderness . . .

. . . and then came the snows . . .

. . . we should have gotten the idea when it snowed the first week in october that we were in for a blizzard of a lewiston winter . . . then february got here . . .

. . . two days one week and three the next . . . we thought we'd never see the end of snow . . . as we got up for our eights and heard on the radio that everything else was closed down because of the storm, it was amusing to watch the gnomies try to shovel through snow that was over their heads . . . that is, if you could see the gnomies past the snow that was over their heads . . .

treat art gallery

while waiting for a rob players' film production, or a play, to begin, or just any time of day batesies can enjoy displays of artwork in the treat gallery in pettigrew hall next to the little theater . . . from time to time bates sponsors showings of the work of various artists and sculptors for the benefit of townspeople and campusites alike . . .

spring music festival

. . . among the changes on campus this year came in the music department . . . the annual pops festival became the spring music festival . . . the chorus, band, deansmen and merrimanders performed in their usual fine style, making it a worthwhile evening for all those who went . . .

. . . when it was all over everyone agreed that those long hours of practice were worth it after all . . .

the boyfriend

the robinson players presented a musical hit from broadway on march 27, 28, and 29 . . . the boyfriend, by sandy wilson, was also presented for seniors and their parents during commencement weekend . . . leads were played by judy conkling and john wilson . . .

Ivy Day Exercise

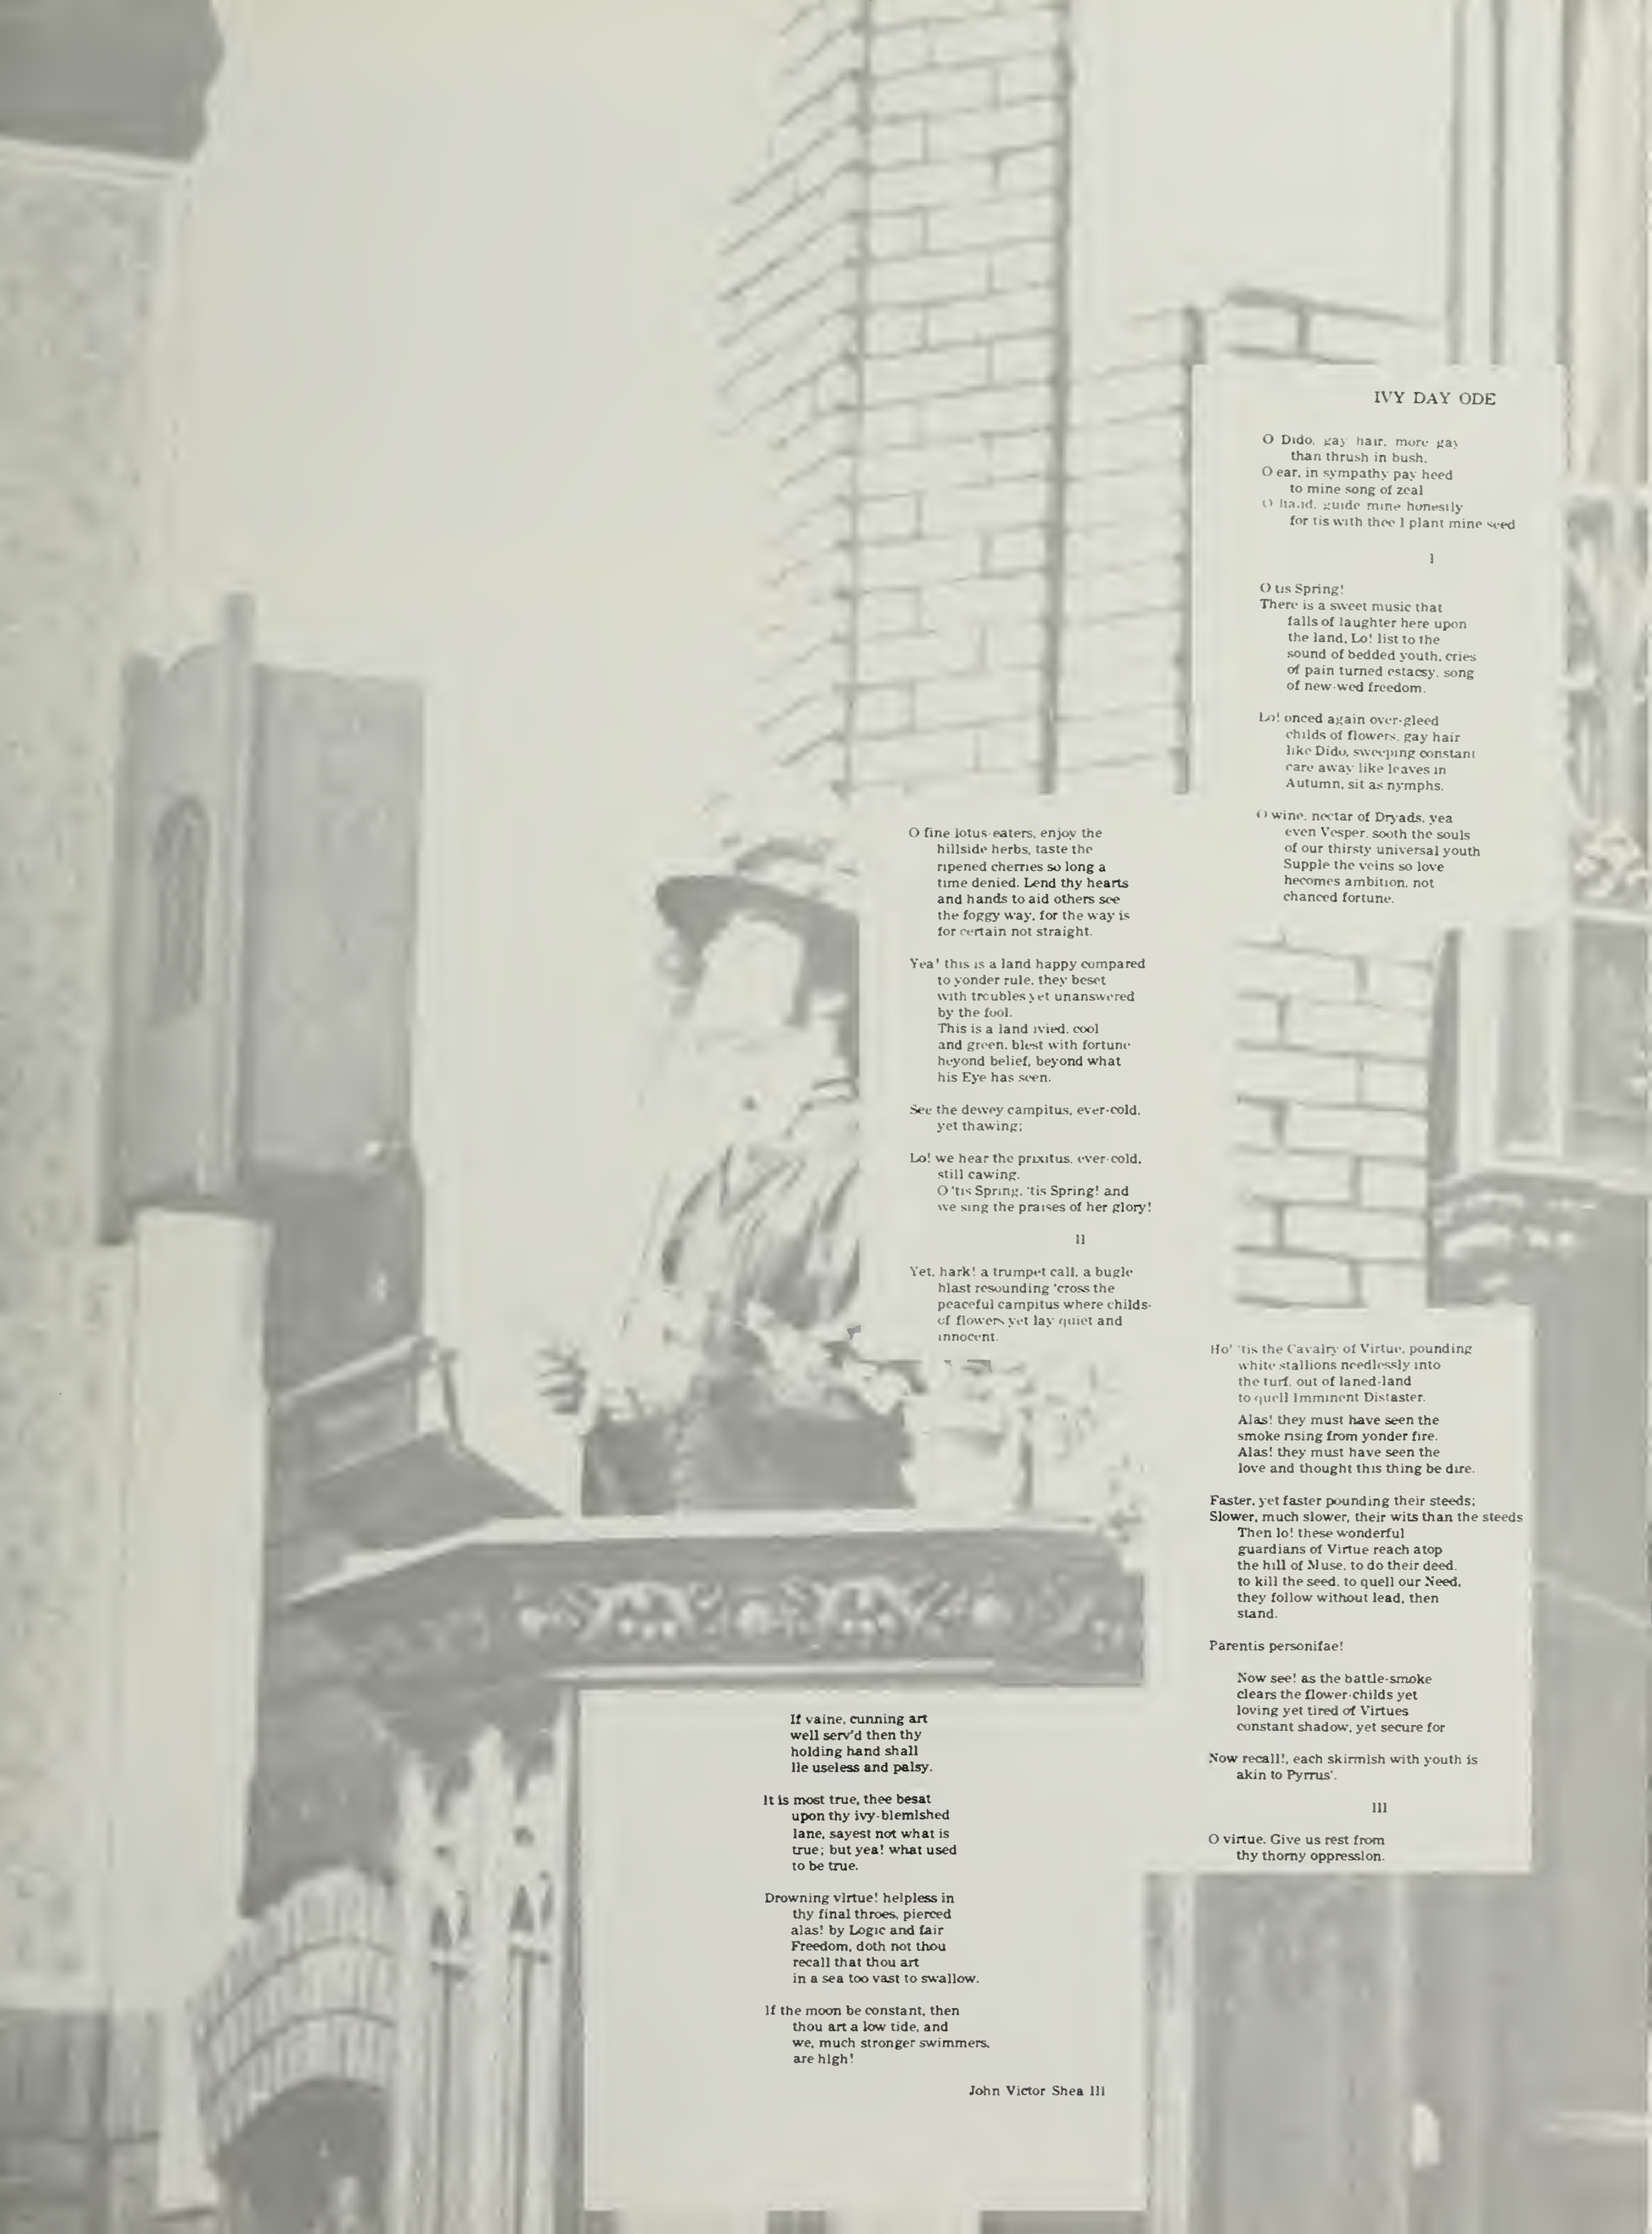
On Friday

The Eleventh of April

Nineteen Hundred and Sixty-nine

At Seven-thirty O'clock
In the Chapel

this year ivy day was again presented by the junior class . . . an evening of mockery and satire, it was highlighted by the kidnapping of julio digiando by the seniors who had been involved in last year's production . . . the ivy of the class of '70 was planted by dana chemistry hall . . .



IVY DAY ODE

O Dido, gay hair, more gay than thrush in bush.
O ear, in sympathy pay heed to mine song of zeal O hand, guide mine honestly for tis with thee I plant mine seed

I

O tis Spring!
There is a sweet music that falls of laughter here upon the land, Lo! list to the sound of bedded youth, cries of pain turned estacsy, song of new-wed freedom.

Lo! onced again over-gleed childs of flowers, gay hair like Dido, sweeping constant care away like leaves in Autumn, sit as nymphs.

O wine, nectar of Dryads, yea even Vesper, sooth the souls of our thirsty universal youth Supple the veins so love becomes ambition, not chanced fortune.

O fine lotus-eaters, enjoy the hillside herbs, taste the ripened cherries so long a time denied. Lend thy hearts and hands to aid others see the foggy way, for the way is for certain not straight.

Yea! this is a land happy compared to yonder rule, they beset with troubles yet unanswered by the fool.
This is a land ivied, cool and green, blest with fortune beyond belief, beyond what his Eye has seen.

See the dewey campitus, ever-cold,
yet thawing;

Lo! we hear the prixitus, ever-cold,
still cawing.
O 'tis Spring, 'tis Spring! and we sing the praises of her glory!

II

Yet, hark! a trumpet call, a bugle blast resounding 'cross the peaceful campitus where childs-of flowers yet lay quiet and innocent.

Ho! 'tis the Cavalry of Virtue, pounding white stallions needlessly into the turf, out of laned-land to quell Imminent Distaster.

Alas! they must have seen the smoke rising from yonder fire.
Alas! they must have seen the love and thought this thing be dire.

Faster, yet faster pounding their steeds;
Slower, much slower, their wits than the steeds Then lo! these wonderful guardians of Virtue reach atop the hill of Muse, to do their deed, to kill the seed, to quell our Need, they follow without lead, then stand.

Parentis personifae!

Now see! as the battle-smoke clears the flower-childs yet loving yet tired of Virtues constant shadow, yet secure for Now recall!, each skirmish with youth is akin to Pyrrus'.

III

O virtue. Give us rest from thy thorny oppression.

If vaine, cunning art well serv'd then thy holding hand shall lie useless and palsy.

It is most true, thee besat upon thy ivy-blemished lane, sayest not what is true; but yea! what used to be true.

Drowning virtue! helpless in thy final throes, pierced alas! by Logic and fair Freedom, doth not thou recall that thou art
in a sea too vast to swallow.

If the moon be constant, then thou art a low tide, and we, much stronger swimmers, are high!

dana scholars

the dana scholars are chosen each year after the freshman year on the basis of academic achievement and service to the school . . . the danas are given scholarships in return for acting as guides, proctors, and filling in as hosts for homecoming and other batesie affairs . . .

campus association

the campus association keeps the campus going in the field of neighborhood service . . . through its many different groups it provides tutors to local high school students, workers for social projects in lewiston and the surrounding areas, and is concerned with the problems of maine indians, in addition to bringing various speakers from different fields to the campus . . .

wrjr

wrjr, the student-operated radio station, is located in the rear of pettigrew hall . . . managed this year by charles kolstad '69, wrjr tried many new programs . . . away football games were also broadcast for the benefit of those unable to spare the weekend away . . .

publishing association

jim ledley '69 was the president of the 1968-1969 publishing association board of directors . . . the board, composed of representatives of the junior and senior classes and the editors and advisors of the student publications, the board is responsible for the mug book, the freshman handbook and overseeing the student, the mirror, and the garnet.

garnet

under sam richards '69 the garnet expanded this year to include color, photographs, artwork and a number of new pages devoted to prose and poetry contributed by talented batesies . . .
